

Name Khao Leuang Patew Chumphon
(Chumphon Leuang Patew Rice)
Country Thailand

Date of registration:
26/09/2007

Source: DIP Thailand

Main characteristics/features

Geographical area

Chumphon Leuang Patew Rice is a variety of rice native to the Patew district of Chumphon province, the Leuang Patew 123 variety. Its husk is yellow and the brown rice is a soft yellow colour. The milled rice is white with beautiful long grains. When cooked, the rice has a good, not sticky texture, and is delicious.

Chumphon Leuang Patew Rice is grown in the Patew district of Chumphon province, located in the upper southern part of Thailand.

Production/processing

Link between product and territory

Chumphon is well known for its long rainy season providing it with an abundant supply of water for the plantation and wetlands. These factors also contribute to the unique quality of the rice grown in the area.

Publication in the Official Gazette

Competent authority

Department of Intellectual Property Thailand

GI rights holder/GI association

Rice Department

Contact information

Type of product

Rice

Control body

File number

52100025

Websites